

General Surgical Opportunity, Greater Madison, WI Area

Stoughton Hospital is seeking a general surgeon to provide exceptional, comprehensive local community based healthcare. Over the past decade the Hospital has earned a nationally recognized reputation for providing genuine patient centered care, personalized to the needs of the patient, allowing for a better quality of life than can be achieved in larger, corporatized organizations. Historic Stoughton is known for its beautifully restored Stoughton Opera House, quaint downtown shops, and community hospital founded in 1904. Stoughton Hospital serves the southern communities of Dane County as the only hospital located outside the city of Madison located 15 minutes south of city.

The Hospital's employed physician functions independently, with the support of a network of affiliated partners. This position offers an excellent venue for a physician interested in practicing the full spectrum of general surgery, with opportunities including emergency/acute care surgery, elective surgery, endoscopy and the flexibility to develop boutique surgical service offerings. Call responsibilities will be shared with existing partners and will not exceed 1:3. In addition, Stoughton Hospital has 24x7 hospitalist coverage.

Stoughton Hospital is independently operated while benefiting from formal and informal affiliations with larger health systems in the region. This position will have the support of an academic department with more than 100 surgeon colleagues. In addition to clinical service at Stoughton Hospital, opportunities to support the teaching and research missions of the department and the university are available.

Stoughton Hospital has been recognized with numerous awards and recognitions for achievements in patient, physician and employee satisfaction. For nearly a decade the Stoughton Hospital team has achieved these accolades and is proud to provide great patient centered services for their community. Stoughton is part of the greater Madison metropolitan area which is routinely ranked among the best places to live in the United States. You won't want to miss this opportunity to be part of an organization known for its culture of service and quality excellence.

Stoughton Hospital offers a comprehensive total compensation package with a cash compensation hiring range of $330,000-$350,000+ incentives tied to quality performance outcomes, patient care outcomes and revenue sharing. This position offers the perfect opportunity for someone to establish a core surgical practice and grow boutique specialist services in an independent environment.
